

Antioch To Vote Tuesday On State Charter

Antioch and Lake County voters will go to the polls Tuesday, Dec. 15, to vote on the proposed new state constitution and the five propositions.

The polls will be open from 6 a.m. until 6 p.m. Voting will be by paper ballots.

All taverns and package liquor stores will be closed the day of the election.

Results of the vote are expected to trickle in slow in as much as precinct workers will have to tabulate the results after the polls close. No machines will be used.

Constitutional convention delegates spent nearly a year in framing the proposed new constitution, the first change in Illinois' document in 100 years.

The Lake County Democratic party has gone on record in regard to the proposed constitution, while the Republican Party of Lake County has taken no stand.

The Democrats also took a position on the four separate propositions which will appear on the ballot.

Members of the Republican Central Committee has decided not to take a position on the proposed constitution, according to County Republican Chairman Robert J. Milton.

Instead the decision was to recommend that the individual members of the central committee decide and urged the people to decide.

Both the State Republican and Democratic Partys have gone on record in favor of the proposed constitution though there is some differences of opinion on certain aspects of the document.

The Lake County Democrats voted to back the proposed main state charter and the propositions:

—Retaining multiple - member Illinois House districts with cumulative voting, instead of going to single-member districts.

—Appointment of judges by the governor from lists supplied by by-partisan commissions of lawyers and non-lawyers instead of election of judges in partisan primaries and general elections.

—Abolishing the death penalty.

—Lowering the voting age to 18.

While the Democratic and Republican leaders have come out in favor of the proposed new constitution, there is a group of citizens organized to defeat the proposed charter.

A. T. Jora is the Lake County co-ordinator of the opposition.

Committee chairmen include Arthur Fossland of Winthrop Harbor; Jack M. Gish of Fox Lake;

Harry H. Stern and George Francis, both of Antioch; James R. Hazell of Highland Park; Garvis Fowler of Highland Park; Robert Powell Jr. of Highwood, and Carter Hoffman of Long Grove.

Congressman Robert McClory (R-Lake Bluff) urges a "yes" vote for the adoption of the new 1970 Illinois Constitution at the special election to be held on Tuesday, Dec. 15.

Congressman McClory, a former member of the Illinois State

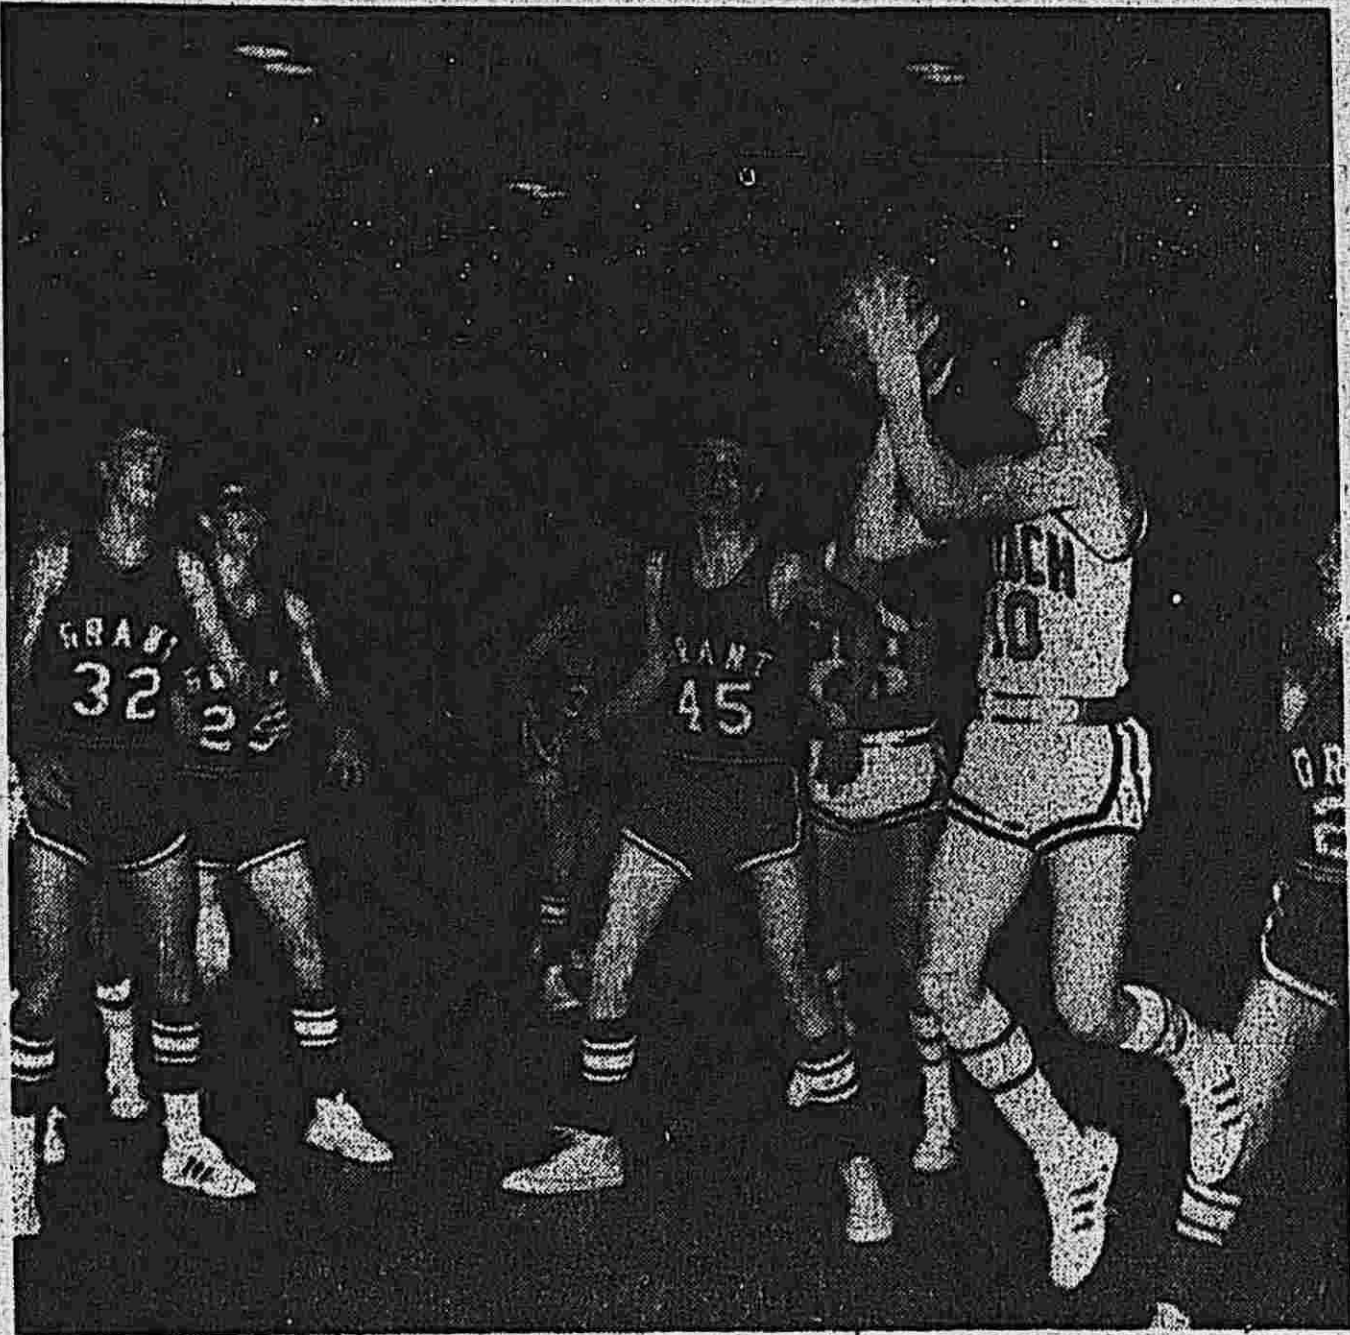

Senate and House of Representatives, was an early supporter of an Illinois Constitutional Convention. The Convention, which materialized last year, developed a comprehensive new basic law for Illinois after many months of hearings and debate.

In expressing his support for adoption of the 1970 Illinois Constitution, Congressman McClory declared: "The 1970 Illinois Constitution will bring Illinois into the 20th Century. In addition to securing the basic Bill of Rights and other cherished individual prerogatives, the new Constitution would streamline the Executive Department and modernize our court system, and contains realistic provisions relative to state revenues, education, the environment and other areas of Constitutional authority."

The Congressman added: "As one who has had experience with the cumulative voting system for electing Member of the Illinois House of Representatives, I would

Antioch Teachers Present Drug Program

The Antioch High School Education conducted a program on drug abuse at its last meeting.

Titled "Drug and Drug Abuse" the members heard talks from Ward Lear, Mrs. Elaine Weidner and Ted DeRousse. They were introduced by Roy Sundquist.

Lear spelled out the objectives of the health program at Antioch High School. He also provided information of drug culture.

Mrs. Weidner spoke on the deleterious effects of tobacco and alcohol and the dangers of amphetamines, barbiturates and narcotics.

Behavioral patterns and physical changes in the drug user were outlined by DeRousse.

It was pointed out by the speakers that no country has ever continued to maintain the legality of marijuana.

It was the thought that although the 1937 law that made marijuana a narcotic and that possession should not be a felony.

The users, it was the consensus, fall into three groups — experience seekers, those who give in to social pressure and oblivion seekers.

The latter group are those who have weak personalities and want to change, it was reported.

Mrs. Virginia Haas explained the new Universe Plan of the Illinois Educational Association and the National Education Association.

Universe gives each local organization more representation in this area.

The president-elect will serve on the Universe board and to select the group's field representatives.

The future teachers chapter served refreshments.

Survey Antioch On Work

A number of households in the Antioch area will take part in a nationwide survey on employment and unemployment to be conducted the week of Dec. 14 to 18 by the Bureau of the Census, Curtis T. Hill, Director of the Bureau's regional office in Chicago announced today.

This survey is taken monthly by the Bureau for the U.S. Department of Labor. The households interviewed are scientifically selected to represent a cross section of all households throughout the United States.

Statistics on conditions in the labor force, especially on the unemployed, are prime measures of economic conditions of the country. In October, for example, the survey indicated that 78.9 million persons were employed and 4.3 million were unemployed, with a seasonally adjusted unemployment rate of 5.6 percent.

Men and women in the same households who have done hired farm work during 1970 will be asked to provide information about their work experience. These additional questions are asked in the monthly survey annually for the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Facts about individuals collected in the survey are held confidential by law; the results can be published only as statistical totals.

State Okay Sought In Improvement Project

Plans for a proposed storm sewer improvement project in the northern part of Antioch have been forwarded to the Illinois Highway Department for approval.

Village Engineer Frank Angelotti outlined the proposed improvement program at Monday night's meeting of the Village Board which authorized the review of the plans by the state since the project will be financed by motor fuel tax funds.

About 1,800 feet of storm sewers will be installed to relieve the flooding conditions in the area of the new public library and the Boy Scout House.

Angelotti said the plans call for installing storm sewer lines behind the First Methodist Church, thence going north to Poplar Street, east across Main Street and then behind the Boy Scout House.

The flooding in those areas has been a sore spot with residents and trustees.

Asked if he thought contractors would bid on the proposed project, Angelotti said, "One contractor told me he would work through the frost."

"This is a good time to take bids," added Trustee Vern L. Barnstable. "There has been a slowdown of work in the construction field."

There was no estimate given by Angelotti of the cost of the project but it is in the five figure mark, according to reports.

A sealed estimate was given the village.

Angelotti said the village will be advertising for bids possibly in the next 10 days unless the state finds some "glaring errors in his plans and specifications."

In other action, the trustees awarded John Teresi Chevrolet-Oldsmobile, Inc. a contract to provide a 1971 Chevrolet to be used as a police squad car at a cost of $3,055.

The auto agency promised delivery of the vehicle before the village's lease expires on the present squad car Jan. 17.

Other estimates were filed by Don Pittman Motors, $3,711; Lyone-Ryan Ford Sales, $3,832 and Earl Stringer Motors, $3,347.

Village Clerk Marilyn Stenberg was advised to follow a new board policy of enforcing the ordinance concerning delinquent water accounts.

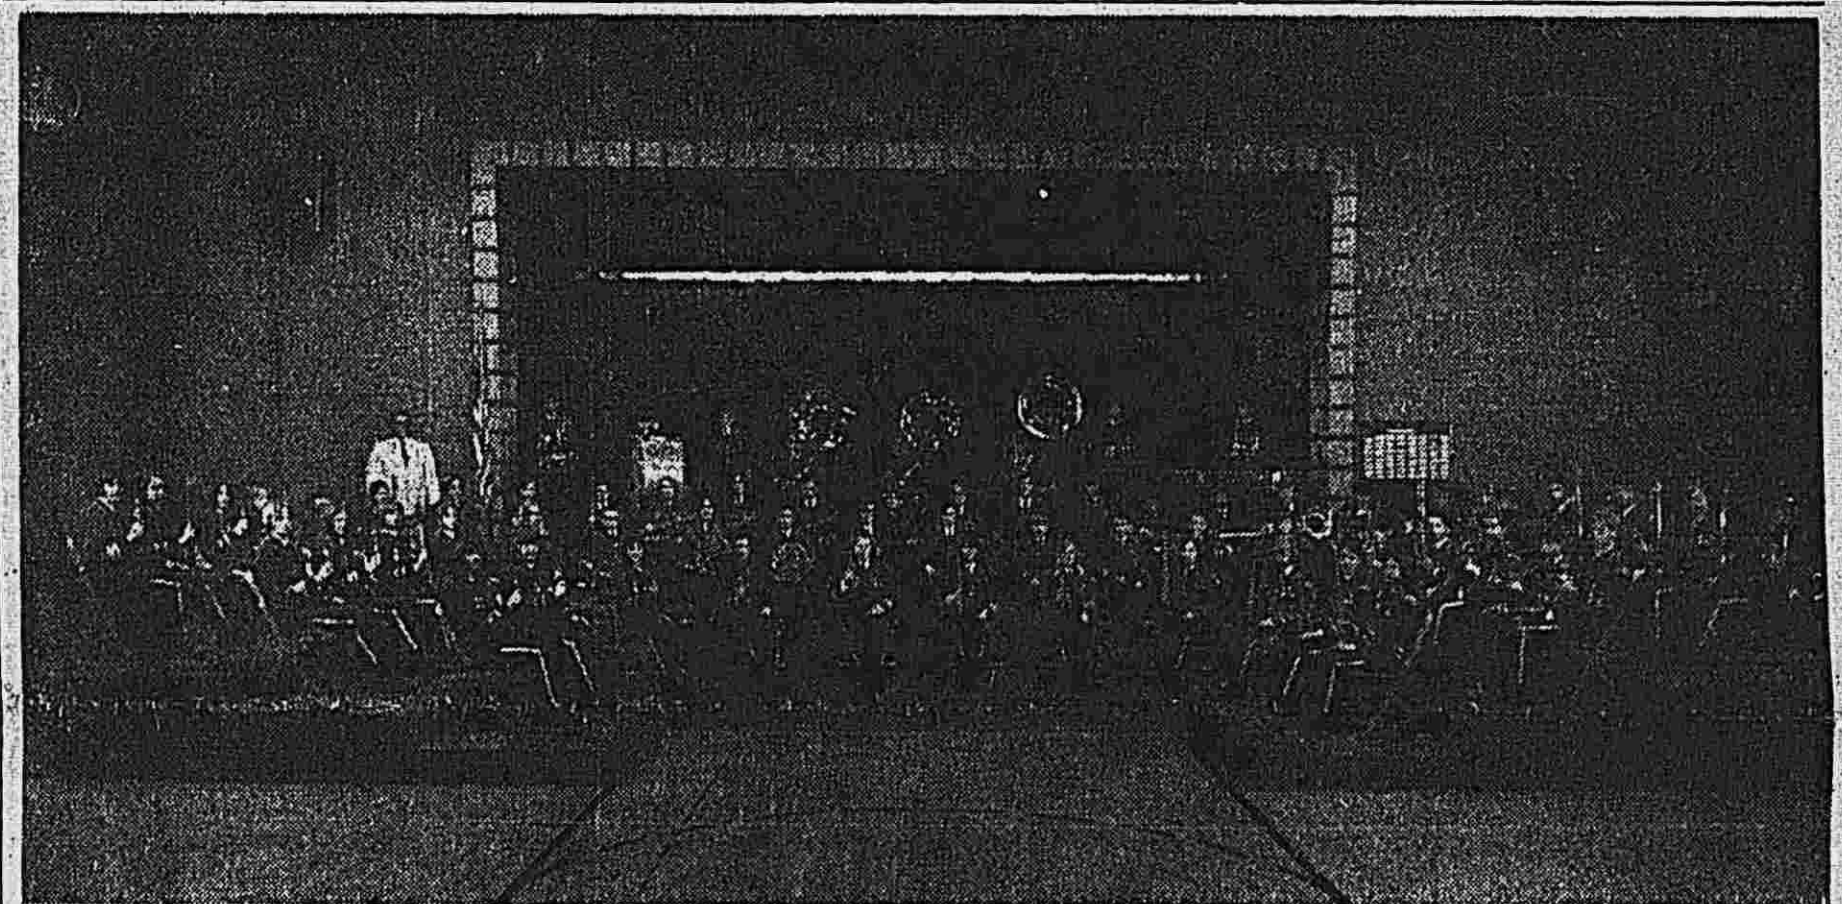

This came to light Monday night when a landlord complained that he had been billed $79.02 for water used by a former tenant who had moved out and had not taken care of the account before leaving for a community in the southern part of the country.

The trustees advised Mrs. Stenberg to order the cut off of water when an account is delinquent for 30 days. She added today that she'll give an additional 15 days to satisfy the delinquencies.

If the account is not paid at the end of the 15 day period, she said she would order the water turned off.

Under the village's water ordinance, the landlord is liable for non-payment of water bill by a tenant.

In the case settled Monday, the landlord contended he should have been notified to hold down

Inaugural Spoiled By Bomb Scare

A bomb scare Monday spoiled the inauguration of three county officials in ceremonies at the Lake County Courthouse Complex.

Newly-elected Orville Clavey, in his first act, ordered the first floor cleared of spectators and well-wishers after he, Grace Mary Stern and Robert Skidmore had taken their oaths as sheriff, county clerk and county treasurer, respectively.

After a search of the building, the doors were reopened to enable the men and women to attend the swearing in of the six judges retained and elected by the judges last month.

Clavey appointed Lt. Jerome Schuetz as his chief deputy, and named LeRoy Winstead as the first warden of the Lake County jail.

Schuetz, who lives in Mundelein, has been connected with the sheriff's office the past 13 years.

Skidmore appointed Herman "Busty" Rhodes, Terrence Tucker and Jack Armstrong as deputy treasurers, by-passing the traditional selection of a chief deputy treasurer.

A Democrat, Mrs. Stern did not make any appointments in her office.

She is the first of her party to be elected in Lake County in 36 years.

Assistant Supervisors Out In 1972

Attorney General William J. Scott said today that assistant supervisors who now hold that office in counties with a township form of government will continue to serve until the first Monday in May, 1972. Thereafter, the office of Assistant Supervisor will be abolished in accordance with new statutes.

Scott made this clear in an opinion issued to State's Attorney William R. Ketcham of Kane County concerning new reapportionment legislation passed in the 1969 session of the General Assembly. The legislation repealed the provisions for the election of Assistant Supervisors.

The effect of Scott's opinion today, thus rules out the need for Assistant Supervisor elections in 1971 and holds that "those Assistant Supervisors now in office will continue to serve..." until the first Monday in May, 1972, when reorganized county boards — reappointed on the basis of the 1970 census — take office.

The opinion affects all counties of less than three million residents which currently have the township form of government.

The purpose of the 1969 legislation was, in substance, to give equal voice to all townships on the principle of one-man, one-vote.

Vote 'Yes'

Antioch voters are urged to vote in favor of the proposed new constitution when they go to the polls Tuesday, December 15.

It will be an opportunity to replace an archaic document with a modern charter to rhyme with our changing times.

In the long run, we are sure, the resident and voter will benefit from the constitution which its framers took many months in putting together in Springfield.

The Antioch News suggests that eligible voters endorse the proposal for the appointment of judges by the governors thereby taking it out of the hands of politicians who have been hand picking their jurists at conventions and primaries.

It will enable the judges to administer the law without fear for loss of their posts at the next election.

We also endorse the election of the 177 members of the House of Representatives from multi-member districts by cumulative voting.

This will insure representation by the minority party. But we hope that there are contests in the general election that will allow the voter to choose from four instead of three candidates as was the case in the November election.

The two Republicans and Democrat were winners without opposition. This was certainly unfair to the voter—having been handed a stacked deck.

As for lowering the voting age and abolition of the death penalty, the Antioch News takes no formal position leaving the decision to the conscience of the voter.

Essential Support

The new U.S. Office of Management and the Budget is working to streamline the 103 agencies of the Executive Branch of the Federal government. It will check on the effectiveness of Federal programs to determine which ones should be expanded, re-directed, curtailed, or eliminated.

In appealing for public support of this new program, Caspar W. Weinberger, deputy director of the office and responsible for budget preparation, said recently that budget pressures in Washington are mostly upward, and "it is considered rather ill-bred to talk about dropping a program." But he warned that the next generation may find half of its time, activity, and productivity going for government "simply because enough of us asked government to do something that enough of us didn't want to do ourselves."

The work of this new federal agency should have a vote of confidence from all the taxpaying public! Surely the need for economy in government was never greater.

the size of the bill or he could have taken action to compel the tenant to pay the bill. He said he was not aware that the tenant was behind in her bill.

The trustees settled the issue by accepting half of the bill—$39.51—since the village had been negligent in not sending a notice to the landlord.

In the future, both the landlord and the tenant will get notices when a water account becomes delinquent.

The trustees accepted the recommendation of the Zoning Board of Appeals in granting a variation in the R-5 multiple family dwelling classification to permit the proposed construction of a multiple family home on a 50-foot lot on Park Avenue.

The requirement under the ordinance is a 60-foot lot.

Petitioning for the variation were Sabra J. Shepherd, the contractor, and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Zikus, contract buyers.

The trustees approved the renewal of the contract with the Lake County Board of Supervisors to be a part of the county radio network at an increased monthly rate.

Police Chief Jack Davis summarized the activities of his department last month, reporting that 51 parking tickets were issued and $32 in parking fines were collected.

The report said $500 was collected from parking meters and $784.98 in fines from the Lake County Circuit Court; there were 12 non-traffic tickets, 14 accident reports, two auto thefts; two attempted break-ins; 15 reports of theft; six vandalism cases and five incidents involving juveniles.

The trustees ordered Chief Davis to ticket an Antioch resident, living on North Avenue and east of Main Street, for allowing junk to accumulate on his property.

Trustees said the condition was deplorable and that possibly bringing the resident into court may lead to the correction of the situation.

Trustees also amended the village ordinance governing stopping by vehicles at intersections in the community. The new ordinance will become effective Dec. 21.

Letters were being prepared for mailing to the Goodwill Industries of Chicago to clean up the deposited articles around its drop boxes on Broadway Avenue.

Village officials said if the areas are not cleaned up the boxes will be removed by village public works employees.

A meeting is planned with Chamber of Commerce to see if the merchants can do something about preventing paper and other litter from blowing onto Main

Governor's Wife Gets 1 Auto Tag

Ogilvie Lauds Proposed State Constitution

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie lauded the proposed state constitution in two addresses. The constitution will be presented to the electorate for approval Dec. 15.

The governor also urged support of the proposal to permit merit selection of judges, which he said "strikes hardest at entrenched political interests for whom a truly independent judiciary is anathema."

Declaring the proposed constitution will permit professional administration and more effective financing of Illinois schools, the governor said its objectives include more continuity and long-range planning, now restricted by the state school superintendent's four-year term; regional representation of diverse educational concerns, and substitution of professional competence for political skill.

Ogilvie said the constitution "recognizes that vocational education, adult classes, programs for the mentally and physically handicapped and other innovations are proper functions of a school system in a complex technological age." He added that abolition of the current 5 per cent bonded indebtedness limit on local school districts would facilitate consolidation of inefficient school districts.

Concerning the constitution's proposed Bill of Rights, he said it would prohibit discrimination based on race or physical handicaps in employment or the sale of housing; provide security from unreasonable invasions of personal privacy and the right to jury determination of compensation when property is seized under eminent domain.

favor continuation of this guarantee of minority representation. Also, I favor lowering the voting age in Illinois consistent with the position I already have taken in the United States Congress. However, these and the two other issues which will be voted upon separately are of less importance than the basic document which will be voted upon as a package. Furthermore, I would not want my personal views on these issues to dilute the support which I hope the voters of the 12th Congressional District of Illinois will give to the new 1970 Constitution."

Congressman McClory concluded: "Our district Delegates—Jeannette Mullen, Mary Pappas, John Wenum, and Jeffrey Ladd—together with their colleagues, have worked hard to produce this modern and succinct document. I compliment them and urge now that the citizens who elected them should give their end-product overwhelming support on Tuesday, December 15."

The debate on the merits of Illinois' proposed 1970 constitution has focused on several specific issues: the method of selecting judges, the effect of the new document on tax policies, the death penalty, home rule for local governments, single versus multi-member districts for the Illinois House of Representatives.

These are the sensitive points: these are the provisions on which great differences of opinion exist. Yet, these are not the major issues facing Illinois voters in the forthcoming special election on the new constitution.

The real issue is rarely considered in public discussions. It is the question of whether the proposed constitution, in total is better than the existing constitution, in total.

The new constitution is a true product of the democratic political process: it represents compromises between the interests of groups throughout the state. Its tax policy, for example, protects wealthy citizens against their fear of progressive income tax, but it also permits the General Assembly to promote the welfare of poorer people by removing the sales tax from selected items such as food and drugs. Its local government article offers city dwellers their long-sought home rule, but it also protects suburban and rural residents against the imposition of income taxes by the cities in which they work.

In short, the proposed new constitution may well represent the best possible document which a constitutional convention, operating in these times and subjected to contemporary social, economic and political forces, could be expected to produce. It does offer Illinois significant improvements in nearly every vital area.

Of course, no one can predict with certainty whether the proposed new constitution will achieve the goals of its framers and proponents. No one can say for certain whether the state would be better off under the new or old constitution. The efficacy of any constitution—and of any law—depends ultimately upon the uses to which it is put, upon the way that it is applied to changing social and economic circumstances and upon the way the courts interpret the meaning of its language.

Motorists should be especially careful during the first few weeks of the new school year. Many youngsters will be attending school for the first time and the excitement may cause them to forget pedestrian safety habits learned at home. Drive slowly in school zones and be prepared to stop.

Six year old Ivy Wilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wilton of 970 Victoria St., visited with Santa Claus at the State Bank of Antioch. Santa will be at the bank Saturday, Dec. 12 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. and Saturday, Dec. 19, 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Scott Warns Drivers Of Low Priced Tires

Attorney General William J. Scott today warned Illinois motorists to be wary of low-priced automobile tires. They may be dangerously substandard and unfit for highway use.

Scott said that many such tires which contain manufacturing defects are usually marked "For Non-Highway Use" or "Farm Use Only," but the Attorney General said that investigations by the National Highway Safety Bureau and others have found that some distributors and tire dealers have buffed off the warning or restriction markings on the walls of the tires.

Scott said the Safety Bureau, which is part of the U. S. Department of Transportation, found that some 185,000 tires manufactured in the last year were not certified by the manufacturers because of some production defect.

At the same time that he issued the general warning to the motoring public, Scott also warned sellers and distributors of the so-called "reject" tires that as of Dec. 1, they can be fined $1,000 for selling defective tires for use on a passenger car.

Scott, a member of President Nixon's national Consumer Affairs Advisory Council, said that the Federal Safety standards have now been amended to require tire manufacturers to stamp rejected tires as unsafe for highway use and attach a cautionary tag to each defective tire. At the same time, tire dealers must now keep records on the sales of any tire to any customer.

Assistant Attorney General George M. Schafer, chief of Scott's downstate Consumer Protection division, said he is checking a number of widely-scattered reports of defective tires being sold to young drivers and to used car dealers in Illinois.

Schafer said he has been working closely with William R. Deutsch, executive director of the Illinois Petroleum Marketers' Association; Harry Bellmer, Executive vice-president of the Illinois Automotive Wholesalers Association; and James E. Anderson, executive secretary of the Illinois State Tire Dealers and Retreaders Association.

Schafer said all three trade associations had expressed concern that tires regarded as unsafe for highway use were being sold at prices ranging from $9 to $12—to consumers who believed they were buying factory-certified tires at bargain basement prices.

It is known, Attorney General Scott said, that a considerable number of "reject" tires have found their way to the retail market and have been installed on passenger cars, but due to the absence of specific safety records it is unlikely the defective tires can be traced.

Scott said the new Federal standards requiring such records, plus the threat of a $1,000 fine, should reduce the threat of unsafe tire sales to an absolute minimum.

Recording Of Proposed Constitution Available For Blind And Handicapped

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Dec. 2—

Production of recordings of the text of the proposed 1970 Illinois Constitution, with explanations, for use by blind and other physically handicapped persons has been completed and the records delivered to the distributing agency, Secretary of State John W. Lewis announced today.

Hild Regional Branch of the Chicago Public Library, the distributing agency, is currently forwarding the records to regular borrowers of "talking books" and to other agencies serving the blind.

The project, originated by Raymond M. Dickinson, coordinator of visually handicapped services for the State Department of Children and Family Services, is designed to enable the blind and others whose physical handicaps may prevent them from reading the printed text to acquaint themselves with the provisions of the proposed new Constitution in preparation for voting on its adoption on December 15.

At the request of the Constitutional Convention, the General Assembly appropriated $3,600 to Secretary Lewis' office to have the recordings produced.

The text of the proposed Constitution, with explanation of changes and illustrative questions and answers, is contained on a set of three records. Each side lasts 40 minutes when played at 8-1/3 rpm, the speed of "talking book machines"—specially designed phonographs—distributed by the Department of Children and Family Services to blind and physically handicapped persons in Illinois. Some 6,000 sets of the recordings are available.

The library will send the Constitution recordings to regular borrowers of talking books. Handicapped persons who are not regular borrowers may secure the free discs by contacting their local library. The records will also be available through many agencies providing rehabilitation services for the handicapped.

Residents Warned On Drug Abuse

Jack Hoogasian, Lake County State's Attorney, today warned civic groups, municipal agencies and merchants to beware of inducements to endorse the so-called Drug Abuse Program promoted by the Educational Clearing House, formerly known as the United States Commission on Safety and Delinquency, 623 Locust Street, Des Moines, Iowa, Budd Stock, also known as Harvey J. Stock, president.

Hoogasian stated that Stock was recently in this area, purportedly under the auspices of the Illinois State Employees Union, and was to solicit merchants to buy copies of a book on drugs to be distributed to school children.

Inquiry of the alleged sponsor, LeRoy Ilgen, Director of Organizing, elicited the information that he denied giving Stock permission to use his name and that his attorney had demanded Stock cease and desist using their name.

The State's Attorney interviewed Stock and it was established his whole sales program is based on misleading material designed to cause the buyer to believe it has been endorsed by the United States Congress, State of Illinois Law Enforcement Agencies, as well as the Governor of the State of Illinois, the International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP) and the Illinois Association of Fire Chiefs (IAFC).

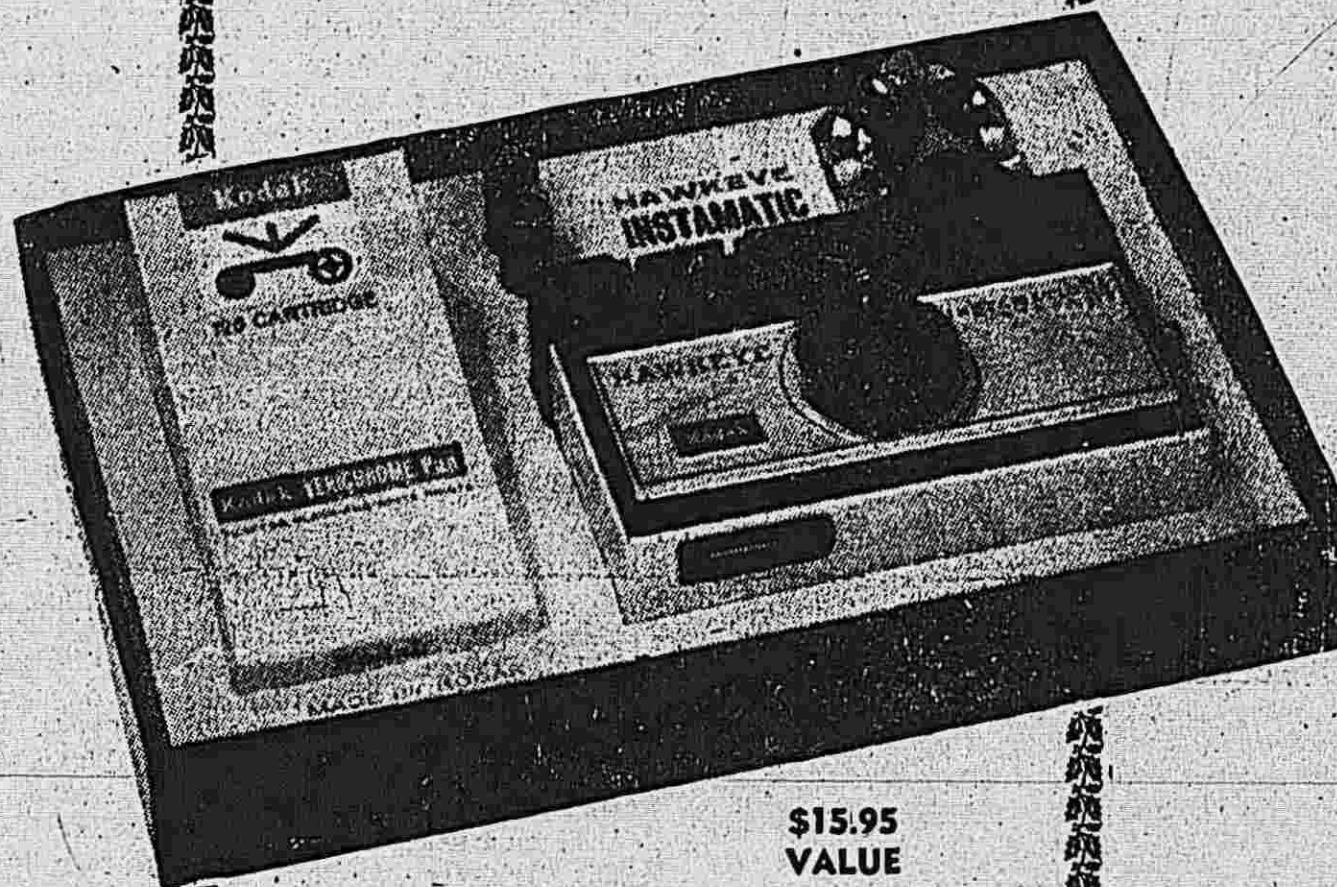

The Des Moines Register of August 16, 1970 states Quinn Tamm, Executive Director, IACP, told them Stock would be sued if he did not stop using their name. The IAFC is quoted as saying Stock is using their name illegally.

The Rockford, Illinois, Chamber of Commerce by release of October 15, 1970, encouraged local businesses and individuals to contribute to projects where the proceeds remain in that community where many local agencies provide drug information at no cost.

American Legion Auxiliary News

By DEL JAHNEKE

On Saturday, December 12th, the 10th District American Legion and the Auxiliary will visit the Arden Shore Home, Allendale School for Boys and the Lake Villa Central Baptist Children's Home, with their annual "Christmas Caravan", and distribution of Christmas gifts. District Child and Youth Co-Chairmen, John Jones and Mrs. William Schultz, both of North Chicago, state that anyone wishing to participate in this event, may do so. Members will meet at the Sharvin American Legion Home in North Chicago, at 10:30 a.m., and proceed to Arden Shore Home, where they will visit the children and give them their gifts. After a break for luncheon, the group will meet at the Lake Region's American Legion Home in Fox Lake, at 12:30 p.m. There, "Santa" and his red sleigh laden with Christmas presents (by courtesy of the Lake Region's Legion and Unit) will then visit the other two Lake County Children's Homes in Lake Villa.

Mrs. William Dowden, Antioch Unit Child and Youth Chairman, has been assisting in the plans for this Christmas caravan.

Tenth District Juniors will sing Christmas Carols at Downey Hospital on December 19th, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m., according to Mrs. Ray Rathmann, Antioch, Antioch, District Junior Activities Chairman. All junior members are encouraged to join in this project.

Some $6,000.00 will be spent on canteen books to be given hospitalized veterans at Downey Hospital, on December 19th, by the 10th District American Legion and the Auxiliary, in their yearly "Gifts to Hospitalized War Veterans". Auxiliary volunteers are needed to address these canteen books for the 2,000 patients, on December 16th, 17th and 18th, from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., in the Volunteer's Room, Building Four.

The late Eddie Cantor and Sophie Tucker originated this program in 1944, and for many years, it was a nationwide project, but now Illinois is the only state that has continued to sponsor this veteran's program every year. The Illinois American Legion has spent in excess of two million dollars providing this holiday cheer to all hospitalized veterans, since the inception of this project. Mrs. Philip Strand, Libertyville, District Rehabilitation Chairman, said.

Christmas parties for all patients at Downey Hospital will be held from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.; 1:30 to 3:00 p.m.; and 3:00 to 4:30 p.m., on December 21st and 22nd. There will be a Christmas party on December 23rd, from 8:30 to 11:00 a.m., for wheel chair patients only. Mrs. Strand concludes by saying that "volunteers are always in demand", especially at this holiday season.

Additional information can be obtained by contacting either Mrs. Ray Rathmann, Antioch unit rehabilitation chairman; or Mrs. John W. Horan, Antioch Unit President.

The American Legion-American Red Cross 1970 Blood Donor Drive will be held from December 7th through January 8th, 1971. Veterans and servicemen returning from Vietnam and veterans of other wars in VA hospitals desperately need this life giving gift during the holiday season, when the demand for blood rises sharply and donations fall 50% below normal requirements. All legionnaires and auxiliary members are urged to offer their services in filling this drastic need.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The basis for expecting divine guidance and protection will be brought out Sunday at Christian Science church services.

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, this passage will be read:

"The history of Christianity furnishes sublime proofs of the supporting influence and protecting power bestowed on man by his heavenly Father, omnipotent Mind, who gives man faith and understanding whereby to defend himself, not only from temptation, but from bodily suffering."

Services begin at 11 a.m. at First Church of Christ, Scientist, BEACON HILL, Rte. 173 and Harden, Antioch, Ill. All are welcome.

Cooperative Christian Project Set

The American Bible Society and the Illinois Council of Churches have announced the joining of their resources for one of the largest cooperative Christian projects ever undertaken in our country.

Speaking to Chicago area church leaders and representatives of the news media at a luncheon in the Pick-Congress Hotel, Dr. Frederick A. Roblee, Executive Secretary of the Illinois Council of Churches, said: "This project is the distribution of the American Bible Society's 'Today's English Version' of the New Testament which is also known as 'Good News for Modern Man' to every family in every community throughout the state of Illinois by church members organized to accomplish this on one Sunday afternoon, April 18, 1971."

Dr. Roblee continued, "This 'Good News for Illinois' project is designed to (1) Enable Christians in every community to reach out to their neighbors with a gift of immediate and recognizable value, and of proven spiritual power, and (2) Bring together the churches—Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox—in a united witness to Christ and to their mutually shared faith, hope and love."

Dr. Melvin E. Soltau, Executive Secretary of the Central Region of the American Bible Society described the phenomenal success of this translation of the new Testament, referring to it as "the nation's runaway best selling paperback." The Rev. C. Edwin Houk, Community Program Secretary for the Central Region presided and presented Dr. J. K. Patterson, President of the Illinois Council of Churches, with the 22½ millionth copy of "Good News for Modern Man."

Dr. Robert Burns of the Church Federation of Greater Chicago gave the invocation.

The plan calls for each community to be organized in very much the same way as for a religious census. The workers will present a free gift copy of this translation to each family. Copies are to be purchased, at 20 cents each, from the American Bible Society by each local Community Project Committee or sponsoring group. The money for this is to be raised in each place on a church and community basis.

PROPERTY OWNERSHIP

From the Natchez, Miss., Democrat: "Property ownership rights are a great bulwark against destruction of American society. They are, as more than one eminent jurist has noted, the most fundamental of all civil rights. We need only to look about us to note what pride in ownership accomplishes. We know that government of itself creates no wealth. . . . Every other human right rests on the foundation stone of the right to own property, and be undisturbed in its possession. . . . Without it, no man is a free man."

Association Predicts 29,000 '71 Heart Deaths

The Heart Association of Lake County today predicted that deaths of the heart and blood vessels will be responsible for the deaths of 29,000 residents of Illinois during the calendar year of 1971.

"Total deaths in this state are expected to number about 49,400 in 1971," said Dr. Erich Weis, President of the Association.

"The cardiovascular deaths will therefore represent 59% of the total, with all other diseases and causes accounting for 41%."

He added that about 1,220,000 are living with some form of heart disease—a figure which does not include persons suffering from effects of stroke, nor those with high blood pressure without heart involvement.

"Nationally," said Dr. Weis, "the overall economic cost of cardiovascular disease has been placed at more than $10 billion yearly, or about $50 for every man, woman and child in the country."

"Those facts unmistakably point to cardiovascular disease as the foremost health problem of our time," he concluded. "They clearly indicate why the Heart Fund is an appeal deserving the fullest support of everyone."

The Association's annual Heart

Fund Campaign will be conducted throughout the state in February, reaching its high point on the Heart Sunday weekend of February 21, when Heart volunteers will call on their neighbors to distribute heart-saving literature and to receive Heart Fund contributions.

Abbott Mails $2 Million In Profit Checks

More than $2 million in cash profit sharing checks was distributed today to Abbott Laboratories' employees, most of them living in or near Lake County.

The record-breaking $2,382,000 cash profit sharing pool was up 11 per cent over 1969, itself a record year. Employee eligible earnings, with well over half paid to employees at Lake County installations, set another record at $77,390,676, up more than 19 per cent over 1969.

The increase in employee eligible earnings was due primarily to substantial increase in base pay, and in the number of employees eligible.

Abbott introduced the cash profit sharing plan six years ago to dramatically show employees the direct connection between how well they do their jobs and corporate earnings performance. Since then, the pool has grown to one of the largest paid by any employer throughout the midwest. The plan replaced a smaller Christmas bonus plan that was more of a gift than a reward for performance.

An individual employee's share is computed as a percentage of his base and overtime pay. The total cash profit sharing pool is an amount equal to 3.15 per cent of corporate pre-tax earnings for the fiscal year ended Sept. 30. The plan's year ends then so checks can be distributed in time for Christmas shopping.

Pollard Chairman Of Advisory Board

Owen Pollard of Lincolnshire in Lake County has been re-elected chairman of the state auditor's County Audit Advisory Board. Announcement of the election, was made recently by Michael J. Howlett, state Auditor of Public Accounts.

Others who were selected to serve as officers of the board include William A. Kealey, St. Clair county auditor, who will serve as vice chairman; and Eulalia Hotz, Madison county auditor, who will serve as secretary.

Pollard, who is Director of Industrial Planning for Commonwealth Edison, moved to Lake County in 1969 from Rockford, where he was twice elected chairman of the Winnebago County Board of Supervisors.

A past president of the area's Junior Chamber of Commerce, he was Rockford "Man of the Year" in 1962.

The County Audit Advisory Board was established under the state law passed in 1963, which requires all county governments to file annual financial reports with the state auditor's office.

Designate Classified Drivers For Licenses

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Nov. 30—The designation of "operator" or "chauffeur" for people who pilot motor vehicles in Illinois no longer applies. All drivers of motor vehicles are now "classified drivers."

The changeover has already affected all those who held the old chauffeur licenses, and in a little more than a year, will include all who hold or held operators licenses. The new system of classifying drivers became effective January 1, 1969, and consequently operators licenses which were issued in 1968 for a three-year period are still valid, and will not expire until sometime in 1971.

When they expire the change will have affected all Illinois drivers. Secretary of State John W. Lewis said the classified license system was enacted by the 1967 General Assembly to place Illinois in conformance with the Federal government's National Highway Safety Standards, and is based on the principal that each driver holds only one license which identifies the type or types of vehicle he is qualified to operate.

Illinois drivers licenses now are:

Class A—Any motor vehicle through 8,000 pounds gross weight, except Class L or M.

Class B—Any motor vehicle through 16,000 pounds gross weight, except Class L or M.

Class C—Any motor vehicle except tractor semitrailer and/or trailer combination, and Class L or M.

Class D—Any motor vehicle except Class L or M.

Class L—Only motor driven cycles less than 150 c.c.'s.

Class M—Only motorcycle and motor driven cycles.

Under this system, a driver holding a Class A license may drive only the vehicles in that class, but a driver holding a Class B license may drive both Class A and Class B type vehicles, the one holding a Class C license may drive Class A, B and C type vehicles, and the one holding a Class D license may drive Class A, B, C and D type vehicles.

A Class M license entitles the driver to operate both Class L and M type cycles, but the Class L license limits his operation to the smaller cycles.

Secretary Lewis explained that a driver may qualify by examination to operate both the four-wheeled type vehicles and the cycles, but must demonstrate his ability with both types. In these cases, the license card will show one classification from the A, B, C or D group, plus L or M.

In addition, Lewis said, the written examinations are scaled to determine the applicant's knowledge of laws and safety procedures for the operation of the various types of vehicles.

At the time of the first renewal after the effective date of the new law, licenses are being re-classified in the following manner:

Former operators licenses and chauffeurs licenses Classes A, B-2 with vehicle size restrictions, B-3 with vehicle size restrictions, and C to the new Class B; former chauffeurs licenses Classes B, B-2, B-3 and D to the new Class C, and former chauffeurs licenses Class E to the new Class D.

Its members assist the auditor in seeking ways of improving county government accounting practices and financial reporting and in suggesting legislation to effect better functioning of government.

State Political Leaders Endorse Cumulative Voting

Some of the top political leaders of Illinois joined together in endorsing Proposition 1A to retain the cumulative voting system for the election of members to the Illinois House of Representatives. The proposition will be submitted to the electorate of the state on Dec. 15, when the proposed new constitution will be voted upon.

Kroll Retires From Railroad

Frank C. Knoll, 65, of 208 Forest Court, Antioch, has recently retired from the Chicago and North Western Railway Company, culminating a career of 44 years with the railroad.

Retiring as division clerk, he plans to continue living in the Chicago area.

In a letter to him, Larry S. Provo, president of the North Western, expressed his appreciation for a job well done in a career that was "highlighted by your energy, interest, capabilities and devotion to duty."

ted to the electorate of the state on Dec. 15, when the proposed new constitution will be voted upon.

Lt. Governor Paul Simon of Troy, U. S. Senator Adlai E. Stevenson III, and former U. S. Senator and former Speaker of the House Ralph Tyler Smith of Alton joined in the following statement:

"The constitutional provision for cumulative voting has served our state well by assuring minority representation in the Illinois House of Representatives in each of our 59 districts. We support the provision of the 1970 Illinois State Constitution for the retention of cumulative voting that will be submitted as a separate question to the voters on Dec. 15."

"The cumulative voting provision in the new Constitution will maintain minority representation while assuring a contest in each of the Illinois House districts. We urge the support of Proposition 1A calling for the election of the 177 members of the Illinois House of Representatives from multi-member districts by cumulative voting."

Lt. Governor Simon made the following additional comments on the cumulative voting system as it operates in Illinois:

"The unique Illinois tradition of multi-member districts with assurance of minority-party representation has, on balance, served the State well. It gives special opportunity to freshmen in the political arena in areas dominated by an opposition political party and gives a minority party at least one spokesman in all areas of the State."

Governor Richard B. Ogilvie and Samuel Witwer, president of the Constitutional Convention, have each publicly indicated personal preference for the retention of the cumulative voting system in Illinois.

Senator Charles H. Percy was out of the country and was unavailable for comment on the issue.

Frosh Wrestlers Win Conference Opener

The Antioch freshman wrestlers won their opening conference match against Grant. After being behind 15-3 the Sequoits captured 6 of the last 8 matches to gain a 31 to 23 victory.

The following day the junior Sequoits traveled to Dundee, where they dropped a 30-20 decision. Commenting on the loss, Coach Steve Wagon felt that "... those men have never quit. They were down 19-0 against Zion and nearly won the match. The same is true against Grant, and they were down 19-5 against Dundee. In the Dundee match, the lead was just a little too big to overcome. If we can get our lighter weights to be more effective, we will be a much improved team."

The Saturday loss to Dundee left the Sequoits with a 1-3 record to date. The next match is a conference match Friday, Dec. 11 at Round Lake.

THE ANTIOCH NEWS-6

Sequoits Win 1, Lose 1

By the Sixth Man

This weekend Antioch title bid was dampened by a 56 to 50 loss to Grant. Rebounding has blown up to be the only factor in the loss of Antioch to Grant. The home rebounding charts showed that Grant had a slim 9 rebounding edge.

The real factor in this game was Antioch's cold shooting from out and Grant's desire to win.

To be realistic, Antioch underestimated their opponents. I am in no way blaming this problem on our veteran coach Roger Andrews. My teammates and myself are the only ones to blame.

In pointing out the outstanding player of the game it would have to be John McCabe, a 6'5" senior from Grant. He used his weight and strength to discourage Antioch rebounders as well as stopping Keith Bolton to an all time low of 12 points.

Bright spots in Antioch's game were the diminishing number of turnovers. Antioch has gained from this loss experience, and a better understanding of the game.

The second game of the weekend Antioch faced Kenosha Tremper. The big man for Antioch was 5'8" sophomore Tim Mieuire.

Tim's fine court play seemed to hold the team together in tight situations. Tim also provided the desperately needed outside shooting with 18 points.

Our team despite the heart-breaking loss to Grant retained its composure and pulled out the game in the closing minutes of the 4th quarter. I felt Tom Martin deserves special credit this weekend. Tom seems to be coming up with the big play when Antioch needs it most. Tom is always an outstanding teammate because of his ability to give 100% out on the floor.

Keith Bolton, the Antioch mainstay, was not performing quite up to par this weekend. Keith seems to be satisfied with the outside shot while I feel he should be driving.

After this win over Kenosha, the team seemed to be relaxed and confident. I think we are as a whole back in winning form.

Grant is No. 1—for the moment!

Small Red Mike Is A Life-Saver

A small red microphone in police cars throughout Illinois is proving itself to be both a life-saver and a crime-stopper.

That red "mike" is linked to a state-wide high band radio frequency known as the Illinois State Police Emergency Radio Network (ISPERN). ISPERN, a program of the Illinois Department of Law Enforcement, is designed to establish, for the first time, a communications bond between all policemen in Illinois.

According to Law Enforcement Director Herbert D. Brown there are 552 law enforcement agencies presently participating in this new program. A $2 million grant from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission (ILEC) enabled the Department to purchase the first 3,345 mobile radio units needed to make the system operative. These initial units, designed by the General Electric Co., have been assigned and delivered to agencies throughout the state.

Through the ILEC grant, the Department of Law Enforcement is able to provide the radio units at no cost to participating agencies, Brown said. ISPERN participants need only pay the cost of installation and maintenance of the units and provide any additional monitoring equipment needed.

Heralded as the first car-to-car police radio network of its kind in the nation, ISPERN is receiving the praise of law enforcement officials from throughout the state. Backed by this support, the Department is requesting ILEC funding to purchase the approximately 2000 additional units needed to link every police car in the state to the ISPERN frequency.

By constantly monitoring the special frequency, ISPERN participants are able to respond to calls for assistance from one another in times of emergencies. Prior to the creation of ISPERN, this was almost impossible since most agencies operate on different frequencies.

ISPERN is proving many theories, one being that better communications leads to better cooperation at all levels—city, county and state. On August 26, Springfield, Menard County and Illinois State Police utilized the ISPERN frequency to apprehend "within 28 minutes" a subject fleeing from Menard to Sangamon County in a stolen car.

As one radio dispatcher noted: "Previous to ISPERN, it was almost impossible to coordinate PERN frequency, his officer stopped the fleeing suspect.

"I feel that this apprehension was only accomplished by the expediency of our town transmitting emergency traffic to another town, via ISPERN," Ziegler said. "It is this type of communication that should eventually curtail any type of criminal actions in the future."

Rockford's Police Department has 51 ISPERN units in operation and Police Chief Delbert E. Peterson feels the system is "a giant step forward" in police communications.

"It is my sincere belief that the key to effective and continued upgrading police agencies throughout the State of Illinois," Chief Peterson said, "One such method of obtaining a high degree of co-operation and coordination is improving communications between the command and operational personnel in the field of the various police agencies throughout the state."

If you reject your responsibilities, you must accept the consequences.

ISPERN is a tightly controlled system. Its units remain the property of the state and the rules governing their use are established by an 11-man board composed of representatives of the Illinois Association of Chiefs of Police, the Illinois Sheriff's Association, the Chicago Police Department, the Illinois State Police and the Associated Public Safety Communications Officers.

ISPERN can be used only in emergency situations such as riots, tornadoes and other disasters and in the apprehension of criminals. Elk Grove Village Police Chief Harry P. Jenkins said ISPERN has been "of valuable assistance in chase situations."

Prior to the installation of ISPERN units, the criminal could elude pursuing officials by simply crossing county or township boundaries, especially in the complex metropolitan areas. Now, policemen equipped with ISPERN units can radio ahead to neighboring law enforcement agencies for assistance in these pursuits.

"There can be no question but that the ISPERN project should be expanded to equip every police vehicle in the State of Illinois with the most effective tool for law enforcement," Chief Jenkins said.

Chicago Heights Police Chief Jack Ziegler reported the apprehension by one of his officers of a hit and run vehicle being chased from Park Forest, South on August 19. Ziegler said that "within a matter of two minutes" after being alerted through the IS-

TAXPAYERS ASK IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. This column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q—A fellow at the place where I work after school says I can stop income tax withholding on my pay if I want to. Is that right?

A—Yes, you may stop income tax withholding on your earnings if you owed no Federal income tax last year and expect to owe none this year. This is done by completing Form W-4 and giving it to your employer. If you earn less than $1725 this year you won't have to pay tax.

Q—The $70 payment I sent in several weeks ago was not deducted from the tax bill you sent me. What should I do?

A—Reduce the bill by the amount of your last payment and pay the difference. Return the bill with your payment and note on it the amount of your previous payment, the date paid and where it was sent. What might have happened is that the bill was issued before your payment had been processed and credited to your account.

Sometimes, however, payments are received that cannot be credited because there is insufficient information to identify the payment. This happens when the payment is received without an accompanying bill or notice and the payment is not identified by the taxpayer's social security number.

If the payment carries a social security number then it can be readily identified and credited to the taxpayer's account.

Q—By neighbors tell me I can sell my house and not pay any tax on the profit since I'm over 65. Can I really do that?

A—Yes, all or part of the profits from the sale of the home may be tax free if you are 65 or over before the date of the sale and owned and used the house as your principal residence for at least 5 of the last eight years.

When these conditions are met, all the profit is tax free when the adjusted sales price is $20,000 or less. When the price is above that, only a proportionate part of the profit is taxable.

For details of this and other benefits for taxpayer 65 and over, send a post card to your district office and ask for a free copy of Publication 554, Tax Benefits for Older Americans.

Q—I am thinking of buying some shares of stock. Is there any advantage of putting the account in my wife's name as well as my own?

A—There are many considerations to be taken into account. From a Federal tax standpoint, the owner of stock is entitled to exclude up to $100 in ordinary dividends from his income. If the stock is jointly owned, then each could receive up to $100 in dividends, tax free.

Q—What tax records do you need to file a return? I just started to work and will be paying tax for the first time next year.

A—You will need records to show your income and expenses for the year. If taxes are withheld by your employer, he will give you a statement of wages paid and taxes withheld at the end of the year. One copy of this should be filed with your return.

If you are not subject to withholding be sure to keep a record of your earnings. You may have to make estimated tax payments during the year to keep you on the same pay-as-you-go basis as those subject to withholding.

Questions, Answers For Vets

Q—I am a reservist and have been on active duty for the past six months. Will my Servicemen's Group Life Insurance protect me during the 120-day period immediately following separation from six-months' military obligation?

A—Yes.

Q—When did the current G.I. educational bill take effect?

A—While the present G.I. Bill became law in June 1966, it covers veterans who served after Jan. 31, 1955.

Q—I am a 19-year-old college student who draws a death pension from VA. When I marry will my pension be discontinued?

A—Yes. Pension is not paid to a child after marriage.

Q—A service-connected injury left me permanently and totally disabled. Will my children receive VA educational assistance while in high school?

A—No. Under this program the law prohibits payment for a regular high school education, unless the child has a mental or physical disability.

Forms and instructions for making estimated payments are available at your local IRS office.

You should also keep a record of all expenses that are deductible for federal income tax purposes. This would include medical expenses, charitable contributions, interest expenses and the like. Receipts, cancelled checks and similar evidence on these expenses should be kept in a file folder or special envelope so that they will be readily available when you start working on your tax return next year.

Q—Can the fellow who made out my return handle my tax appeal? He knows more about it than I do.

A—It depends on his qualifications. If the tax adviser is a certified public accountant, a lawyer or has passed a special examination given by the Treasury Department, then he can represent you. A tax return preparer without these qualifications can only assist the taxpayer during the examination of the return and not thereafter.

Q—Is it too late to make a change in the return I filed for 1969? I think I'm entitled to a deduction for moving expenses.

A—You may still claim this expense by filing Form 1040X, Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return. As a general rule, you have three years from date your return was due to claim items you forgot. Copies of the form and instructions for completing it may be obtained by writing to your District Director.

Q—Is money given a maid for carfare subject to Social Security Tax?

A—Yes, the Social Security tax applies to the total cash paid a household employee, even though some is paid for transportation.

Tax payments for the July, August, September quarter are due Nov. 2. Any person who has paid $50 or more cash wages in a quarter to an employee for household services (cleaning, gardening, etc.) must file a return using Form 942, Employer's Quarterly Tax Return for Household Employees.

Q—My ex-wife has always claimed our son as her dependent but this year I've been paying his college costs. Can I count this as a contribution to his support?

A—Yes, education is one of the items included in the support test. If you can establish that you provided more than half your son's support for the year, then you may be entitled to claim his exemption. Normally, the parent with custody for the greater part of the year is entitled to claim the exemption.
